

Teen-A-Go-Go: Take a Trip Back To The '60s

by Steve-O

Teen-A-Go-Go, a fun little film by Mark Nobles and Melissa Kirkendall about Fort Worth's teen rock-n-roll scene in the 1960s, will have a free screening on Nov. 16 during the upcoming Lone Star International Film Festival.

The screening begins at 5 p.m. at the Norris Conference Center (the old AMC Sundance Theater) at 304 Houston St. A Q&A with filmmakers follows along with a battle of the bands at 7 p.m. featuring live performances of the music in the film by the musicians in the film Johnny Nitzinger & the Barons, The Elite, Larry & The Blue Notes, The Mods and The Excels and guest emcee Bobby Wygant. Admission is free but you must reserve your spot by calling 817.501.1003 or 817.504.1373 or using the ticketing system on the Lone Star Film Fest website.